Journal of Accounting Education

CONTENTS

VOLUME 17, 1999

VOLUME 17, NUMBER 1 WINTER 1999

Main articles

Student perceptions of the profession and its effect on decisions to major in accounting
Georgia P. Saemann and Karen J. Crooker 1

Tradition or enlightenment: philosophical choice in accounting academia
Franklin Truan and Hugh Hughes 23

Practitioners' perceptions of the importance of specific corporate tax knowledge of new hires working in tax
Richard L. Ott and David P. Donnelly 35

Student perceptions of the effects of classroom assessment techniques (CATs)
Elaine M. Harwood 51

Perspectives on implementing a framework for evaluating effective teaching
Brian Patrick Green, Thomas G. Calderon, Alexander L. Gabbin and Jerrell W. Habegger 71

Case

Accounting for other postretirement benefits and pension costs at Ohio Edison
Robert Bloom and William J. Cenker 99

VOLUME 17, NUMBERS 2/3 SPRING/SUMMER 1999

Main articles

Validation of factors relevant to the exemption of accounting courses in MBA programs
E. G. Chewning Jr and E. A. Spiller Jr 123

Preparer versus user introductory sequence: the impact on performance in Intermediate Accounting I
Richard A. Bernardi and David F. Bean 141

An analysis of the association of demographic variables with the cognitive moral development of Canadian accounting students: an examination of the applicability of American-based findings to the Canadian context
L. Thorne 157

A survey of international accounting education in the US and some other countries
Ajay Adhikari, Mary A. Flanigan and Rasoul H. Tondkar 175

Computer-assisted teaching and learning in accounting: pedagogy or product?
Gordon Boyce 191

Learning through writing in a first-year accounting course
Linda English, Helen Bonanno, Tig Ihnatko, Carolyn Webb and Janet Jones 221

Teaching and educational notes

Internet uses in accounting education: survey results
Richard E. Baker and Clinton E. White Jr 255

Home mortgage analysis for cultivating crucial spreadsheet and model development skills
Susan Kruck and John J. Maher 267

Using an intranet to facilitate student-centered learning
D. Lont 293

Reporting of overhead variances: a cost management perspective
Chris H. Durden and Y. T. Mak 321

Beta Alpha Psi award winning manuscripts

An analysis of the value of reporting comprehensive income
Maria Keating 333

The impact technology is having on the accounting profession
Amy S. Jordan 341

VOLUME 17, NUMBER 4 FALL 1999

Acknowledgements v

Editorial 349

Main article

Experience, instruction and knowledge acquisition: a study in taxation
Mario J. Maletta, Brenda H. Anderson and James P. Angelini 351

International perspectives

Accounting education for professionals in Germany — current state and new challenges
Adolf Gerhard Coenenberg, Axel Haller and Kai-Uwe Marten 367

Teaching and educational notes

Using flowcharts to teach audit reports: an update
S. Michael Groomer and James A. Heintz 391

Using z-scores to evaluate accounting students: a test of Weinstein's suggestion
Sally A. Webber and B. Douglas Clinton 407

Re-engineering the teaching of bond liabilities
Ronald J. Huefner 417

Case section

Roz, Inc.: a case for extending management accounting coverage to managers' information acquisition process
Chee W. Chow, Axel Schulz and Anne Wu 429

Olympic soccer comes to Birmingham: managing a nonprofit organization's accounting and finance in a public setting
Brian Ballou and Richard S. King 443